You will need to sign this form giving us your permission to be involved in the study. Taking part in this study is entirely your choice. If you decide to take part, but later change your mind, you may stop at any time. If you decide to stop, you do not have to give a reason and there will be no negative consequences for ending your participation.

Purpose of this Study

The reason for this study is to examine patterns of ice cream consumption of college freshmen. You have been asked to participate because you are registered at Missouri State University as a college freshman. This study will review the ice cream eating habits and social and economic patterns of about 50 college freshmen at Missouri State University.

Description of Procedures

If you decide to take part in this study, you will be asked to fill out a 30-item, multiple-choice questionnaire which will ask some personal information (e.g., gender, age, living on-campus or off-campus, etc.), your past eating habits, your eating habits since entering college and your social behavior (e.g., do you eat ice cream when you are stressed?). This questionnaire will take about 15 minutes to complete. Any information about you will be kept confidential. To protect your privacy, you will be assigned a coded number and your name or any other identifying information will not appear on the questionnaire.

What are the risks?

We estimate that the potential risks of this study are minimal. However, you may experience some psychological discomfort when answering questions about your eating habits or social behavior.

What are the benefits?

It is not anticipated that you will experience any direct benefits from this study. Nevertheless, your participation in this research will help investigators identify risk factors for excess ice cream consumption. This information may be useful in developing future programs to promote student health.

How will my privacy be protected?

Information about you will be coded. Your name will not appear on the questionnaire. The information gathered will be accessible only by the investigators and it will be kept in a locked facility on campus. You will not be identified by name in any publications that result from this research. All information from this study will be destroyed 2 years after the study ends.
